

Connect Electronics

RoHS Statement

Connect Electronics is an independent global distributor of board level electronic components to major multinationals corporations around the world. As such, we do not manufacture or materially alter any of the components that we sell.

Connect Electronics is unable to certify to our customers what materials are used in the manufacturing process of the components we sell.

The responsibility to ensure that components used in the manufacturing process are RoHS compliant is borne by our customers. As has always been our policy we only supply product that has been originally specified, designed and approved by our customers.

Connect Electronics does certify that it will always supply, and not deviate from, the exact part number, manufacturer, date code and any other specification provided to Connect Electronics by its customers.

Where possible, and when requested, Connect Electronics will endeavour to supply information about component compliance, and, direct our customers to specific information available from component manufacturers.

Should you require any further information on this subject please feel free to contact our QA director.
